Assignment 2

1. Implement the Jenkins one-at-a-time and Bernstein's hash (djb2) functions. The input to your application will be a text file. The hash function should be applied on each line of the text file. The hashed values should be written back to another text file. The implementation should be in C/C++.